Taiwan, 1990s. Vietnamese immigrant wife Van Tue lives in the countryside with her construction worker husband and mother-in-law. With each holding a different view of "home", restlessness permeates while disasters besiege their lives, forcing Van Tue to flee as she awaits the arrival of the new millennium...

As the island nation enters the modern era, a mysterious Vietnamese woman appears in the city — she's a private detective embarking on an exploration of Van Tue's experiences. During this journey of discovery, however, she keeps encountering people and things that seem to have appeared in the past...

This epic of life formed by a two-part story explores the survival of immigrant women in a changing foreign land. Through the entangled fates of "outsiders and locals", this unique film radiates predicaments on conflicting values, social stratum, history, globalization, and self-identity.

On a winter's night in 2002, his girlfriend's asked him to meet her at a bridge to discuss breaking up. While straddling a guardrail, she accidentally fell off the bridge and died. He asked a friend to call an ambulance, but the girlfriend's parents accused them both of murder. They weren't prosecuted until a witness changed their original statement and claimed the two of them threw the victim off the bridge.

Thirteen years later, Taiwan Innocence Project decided to take on the case as there was no evidence apart from an altered witness testimony that indicated they threw the victim off the bridge. In the face of an unreplicable crime scene and many lingering doubts, what should one believe? How can three connected families pick up the pieces and move on?

As We Like It, a reworking of Shakespeare's play, tells of the blossoming love between Orlando and Rosalind, who is disguised as a man. Filmmakers CHEN Hung-i and Muni WEI opted for the lovebirds to be played by women, thereby referencing Shakespeare's era when women were banned from the stage and all roles were played by men.

This colorful, energetic film follows Orlando and Rosalind and three other potential couples in their search for one another, all set in an internet-free neighborhood in the bustling metropolis of Taipei where there is no rush and people consciously live together. Fairytale settings, magical meetings, cryptic messages, but also fights, kidnappings and family feuds, the film upends the binary world, making it a loving spectacle with plenty of music and doll-like designs.

The film is inspired by Farewell, To The Year Gone By and The House Spirit by Japanese novelist Kanoko OKAMOTO. It depicts the "landscapes of love" of men and women in contemporary times. OKAMOTO examines the love between men and women from an Asian perspective, which is greatly influenced by Buddhism. In contemporary cinematic language, the film shows the forward-looking and universal resonance of OKAMOTO's 1930s literary works far beyond their region and era.

A Lean Soul examines the life and works of Taiwanese novelist QI Dengsheng. The filmmakers were able to obtain in-depth interviews not only with QI's closest friends and relatives, but also with the notoriously camera-shy QI himself. The film also vividly dramatizes many passages from QI's intensely autobiographical works of fiction. The result is an intimate and candid portrait of one of the most important and controversial Taiwanese writers of the last 50 years.

As Asia's economy booms, its traditional social order has also shifted. Though female autonomy has gradually awakened in various societies and entered a new era, misogynistic views and behavior remain the norm. Deepest Uprising interviews of a group of female poets from different regions across Asia, including Taiwan, India, Sri Lanka, and the Philippines. Their personal situations, insights, and poems reflect the problems they have confronted in their respective countries, very often caused by government policies and traditional practices. Exposing oppression and hostility against women, the film highlights how female poets struggle to break free from their shackles in a changing society, shaping a new Asian female literature movement and a rich world of new ideas.

The literary Chu family is a one-of-a-kind family of writers in contemporary Chinese literature circles. The family produced seven writers within three generations, all of whom have written profoundly influential masterpieces. Unfulfilled Dreams is directed by CHU Tien-wen and tells of her parents' story from the daughters' perspective. The sisters found a diary of their father's journey to Taiwan. They also found their mother's writings about her life growing up among doctors in a small town in Miaoli, as well as 120 "non-love love letters" exchanged between their parents. It is a priceless record of the journey taken by a family of writers faced with the evolving history of Taiwan.

Taiwan is an island country. Although it is surrounded by the sea, its people fear the sea because the politics, history and religious beliefs held on this island make them turn their backs on it.

Oceanic literature author LIAO Hung-chi and underwater photographer Ray CHIN lead the audience out to the sea and into the water. They prompt us to understand the sea and to think about the possibility that the ocean might become our lives and the future of our country.

Taiwan is not only an island but also a sleeping whale. Since a whale does not belong to the land, it must wake up and swim towards a future full of possibilities.

Revolving around four major physical and diplomatic battles — the First Guangzhou Uprising, Sun Yat-sen's detainment in London, the Second Guangzhou Uprising, and the Wuchang Uprising — of revolutionary groups in the dying years of the Qing Dynasty, this work interweaves one man's regret, as he inadvertently causes a dear friend's death, with the rivalries and cooperation between different revolutionary camps, and the crumbling disarray of an empire in its death throes. The courage and friendship of this group of fearless young men and women pave this saga of toppling a millennia-long empire, as they fight for the common good unto their last breath.

But the owner of the plantain-fan is Princess Raksasi and Bull-Demon King, whose child, Red Boy, despises Sun Walker. This is because Red Boy once tried to eat Master Tang's flesh in order to gain immortality, but was subdued by Sun Walker with the help of Bodhisattva. Four migrant workers live in one basement while waiting to be transferred. They each have different backgrounds and reasons why they have no choice but to work in Taiwan. One is Yanni, a 42-year-old Indonesian mother; another is the handsome 23-year-old Homer, also from Indonesia; and the other two are 25-year-old Jinxiong and the pretty 22-year-old Sile, both from Vietnam.

The four don't really know each other and were put there temporarily by an intermediary. The two young guys quickly start vying for Sile's attention, and in an ensuing conflict, Jinxiong accidentally and seriously injures Homer. Yanni and Sile quickly stop Jinxiong and tie him to a chair.

After calming down, a repentant Jinxiong wants to call an ambulance to save Homer, but Yanni and Sile refuse because they are runaway workers who will do anything to ensure they can keep working in Taiwan for the sake of their families. Who will make it out of the basement in the end?

After winning four Majors, 15 LPGA titles and spending 109 weeks ranked number one in the world, Yani TSENG has failed to win a title since 2013 and slid to number 650 in the rankings. The "Smiling Queen of Golf" has lost her trademark smile, as well as the drive and passion in her swings. Taking a full year off from competing, she sets out on a journey of self-discovery, relocating to San Diego in an attempt to reconnect with herself. She revisits Sunrise Golf Club, a golf academy where she spent six of her teenage years. She takes on a new mental training regimen and begins a process to confront her past through dialogue with her mental coaches, trainers, her father, and most importantly, herself. "I have to be okay with not getting back to No. 1," she realizes. With years of trials and tribulations and this new understanding, she embarks on a comeback trail in 2021 — against the familiar landscape of manipulated terrains, man-made bunkers and greens, societal pressures and values organized on patriarchal lines — with a natural grace and restored hope.

SYNOPSIS

In Japan, a girl sees her classmates poke a pair of chopsticks into a bowl of rice, and make wishes to "Chopsticks Master". The eight-day ritual has to continue for 84 days. If the Master agrees to help, he will send a notice, but don't let him "find" you. In Taiwan, a boy has a silver necklace with a pair of coral reef chopsticks. It's said that a Tang Dynasty celestial in the chopsticks will bring you happiness and marriage. In Hong Kong, people put a bowl of rice and a pair of chopsticks beside puddles as curses, to send people they hate to the afterworld for the wedding of ghost bride.

Later, their wishes come true. People fall in love, and people they hate are gone. However, what is the price for dreams coming true? Who pays the price?

The Japanese girl has nightmares of being hunted. The Taiwanese boy loses one of his chopsticks. The ghost bride in Hong Kong is transformed into a grudge online. In a dim room we don't know when or where, a prostitute is talking about her life to a client. It's a confession of murder. It's the story of a curse linked to a pair of chopsticks.

2019 Books from Taiwan

LOGLINE

A rookie antique restorer falls in love with her colleague only to find out he is an ancient sword in human form.

SETTING

Set in a fictional modern Asian city named Four Quarters and inspired by the culture of the Bronze Age, this story in essence explores the conflicts between what we need and what we want.

CHARACTERS

Ruchu Ying, 22, a rookie antique restorer who is used to keeping to herself and committed to her craft.

Hsiao Liam, 27, a professional bronze appraiser and the human form of Dark Night, a jet-black sword from the 11th century BC.

Wolf, 29, a well-traveled world mercenary and the human form of a war machete from a belligerent general in the second century BC.

WHY SHOULD THIS PROJECT BE MADE INTO A FILM/OTHER AUDIOVISUAL WORK?

People always long to see a good forbidden-love story. Comparable to Beauty and the Beast, Twilight, and Guardian: The Lonely and Great God, Her Sword portrays unique characters and brings laughter and tears. This perfect blend of myth, romance, and ancient culture constructs a fictional world with incredibly rich detail.

SYNOPSIS

Her Sword is a romantic fantasy series with a pinch of humor and a grand worldview. In the setting of the story, bronze antiquities transformed into human form thousands of years ago. They hid their identities to live among human beings, until today. Rich in suspense, love and ancient culture, the story takes place in a small cultural relics preservation company located in a fictional Asian metropolis.

Ruchu Ying, the heroine of the series, left her hometown after graduating from university to work as an antique restorer for the company. Antique restoration is a "slow" industry in a fast-paced modern society. Convinced that she will live a quiet and lonely life, Ruchu is determined to become a top restorer.

However, her world is turned upside down after she falls in love with her colleague Hsiao Liam. Accidents, deaths, crises... all kinds of unimaginable things keep happening around her. Ruchu is forced to come to terms with two things: First, she might not be in love with a human being. Second, she herself might not be an ordinary human being... "Who am I" is a tricky question faced by every key character in Her Sword.

Take the male protagonist Hsiao Liam for example. He was the historically renowned Sword of Dark Night before transforming into the human form, invincible on the battlefield and having taken countless lives. But Hsiao Liam as a human being hates war and loves music.

However, he is still a blood-thirsty sword by nature. He is in love with Ruchu, but also wants to kill her.

Her Sword is not a story with good and evil. All confrontations take place only because the characters have different beliefs and different positions.

Ruchu says, "Life is too short. There is only enough time to do one thing well." Hsiao Liam says, "Life is too long to live with regrets." Wolf asks, "What is wrong with killing one person to save tens of thousands?"

All the mysteries come from long-lasting ancient civilizations. While looking for clues in the process of antique restoration, occasionally (sometimes) we take the readers out of the modern context into a virtual scene of the long gone past.

Her Sword is a tetralogy that started in 2018, with its finale scheduled for 2022. Aside from the novels, we have adapted Her Sword into interactive formats featuring virtual reality and augmented reality. At present, we are developing Her Sword into a TV series.

SYNOPSIS

Life on the periphery, entangled in homosexual lust. This is an authentic confession of a lonely crocodile, an important gay novel at the end of 20th century Taiwan. The crocodile is an incarnation of the author, a human in disguise. The human skin constrains the crocodile, Qiu, and all homosexuals. Chapters in odd numbers focus on the homosexual and bisexual desires and psychological experiences of seven characters. Through liberating sexual and gender perspectives, it attempts to conduct new psychological analyses for young people born in the 1980s.

Taipei, Taiwan, 1990.

You may be meeting these characters for the first time, or reuniting with them after a long time.

Lazi, Shui Ling, Chu Kuang, Mengsheng, Tun Tun...

On campus, in student club offices, in rented rooms.

They grow, struggle, love; brave and enraged.

Chapters in even numbers are monologues of a crocodile covered in human skin. Chapters in odd and even numbers use different materials and narratives to compose psychological and political aspects of the same subject.

A dead body appears in the virtual tech world. How do you break through the border between virtual and reality — and murder people?

SETTING

In 2020, people are trying to recreate a virtual Ximending in 2008 with technology.

CHARACTERS

Dashan: An engineer who lives with his daughter, Elly. His major achievements are the virtual shopping district VirtuaStreet at Ximending commissioned by the government, as well as an important person in his life.

After a major earthquake ruins Ximending in Taipei in 2014, the area crumbles into a symbol of decay. Even though people miss the place, it is impossible to return the area back to glory. The government sees an opportunity and commissions a tech company in 2020 to develop a virtual shopping district called VirtuaStreet. Based on Ximending in 2008, it is supposed to "look real, feel real, and sound real".

One day during the last testing stage, designers Dashan and Xiaolu enter VirtuaStreet to investigate data issues, but they are surprised to see a dead body. Police investigations indicate that the victim was struck on the head. However, the body in the real world is in a locked room, and law enforcement cannot identify any weapons in the virtual world.

System records show that when the murder took place, only Dashan and Xiaolu were in VirtuaStreet...

Agnosticism Detective

LOGLINE

A Taoist priest investigates mysterious cases linked to Taiwanese customs.

SETTING

Taiwan, 2020.

CHARACTERS

Hailinzi: A young Taoist priest and detective in Taiwan who does not believe in God. He has unusual red birthmarks on his arm that look like fish scales, and he is followed by a mysterious evil spirit. He always prioritizes reason.

Wu Shuang: A calm and kind police officer who often brings cases for consultation. He also assists Hailinzi during investigations.

SYNOPSIS

In rituals to bless construction works, people dress up sacrifices as deities, with a wok on their heads, straw sandals on their feet, and golden armor on their bodies. The sacrifices are then buried alive, and become ghost kings that suppress other spirits.

A male body appears in an abandoned temple at a park. Covered by talismans and unusual clothes, the decomposing body has been bitten by stray dogs. A few days later, a female body floats in a lake in yellow Taoist priest clothing. Some people speculate that she has been taken by ghosts, while others assume it is a living sacrifice for construction works nearby. Without convincing clues, law enforcement suspects there may be a serial killer.

Followed by a mysterious evil spirit, a young Taoist priest can see the afterworld and invisible forces. He is invited by law enforcement to assist in the investigation. He looks through clues in these unresolved cases calmly and rationally. Compared to murders, though, he is actually more interested in the "talismans" on the corpses.

An unconventional detective or Taoist priest, Hailinzi participates in his first police investigation, but certainly not his last. Later, he will encounter more unbelievable mysteries and crimes that may be related to supernatural forces in Taiwan.

Chapter 5: The Weight of Rainbow —Under pressure, two adolescents in love commit suicide by jumping into a river. One of them survives and hides from the world. His anxious family cannot find his body. Yangqing suggests a funeral with his personal belongs, and throwing a watermelon into the river to call his soul back. Chusheng hears Xiaoguang has passed away, and decides to face her relationship with her family.

Chapter 6: After taking care of so many funerals, it is time for Yangqing to send away his father. He tries to be rational but is emotionally overwhelmed. Chusheng forcefully takes over the process, and asks Yangqing to be a dutiful son for one last time. Secret Weapon

秘密耳語

P-bit, a slow-witted boy who is always bullied by classmates, is actually an android created by the country of B-lē to fight invading monsters. His dream, however, is to run a food stall in front of his school and serve sweet potatoes to students. This 10-year-old boy yearns for the company of friends, so when the mysterious one-eyed girl Ka-lm appears, it's like a dream come true. But terrible things start to happen. Their classmate B-g disappears. P-bit and Ka-lm discover that the principal is actually an android who devours students with the worst grades in the class and then makes them into canned food. Ka-lm tells P-bit that if everyone gets dumber by eating the venom glands of monsters, then no one will become a victim. But when P-bit's classmates eat their venom-laced lunches, they pass out and don't regain consciousness. P-bit unexpectedly learns Ka-lm is a spy from the neighboring country Hēng-hok. Ka-lm made friends with P-bit to seek revenge for her country, because B-lē has turned the people of Hēng-hok into monsters, including Ka-lm's mother and older brother...

Q Series 2

植劇場 2

Q Series is dedicated to promoting Taiwanese literature, cultivating new acting talents, developing new and diversified genres, and making a mark in the local television and film industry. Q Series brings together eight original stories, both fiction and non-fiction, which were adapted into screenplays by a screenwriting team. Finally, eight award-winning and renowned filmmakers were invited to direct the TV shows. The eight shows that were produced during the first round of the Q Series project in 2016 received nine of Taiwan's prestigious Golden Bell Awards, including two awards for Best Television Series. Now, the second iteration of Q Series is underway, once again training a new team of aspiring actors and bringing in major directors to create a collection of eight television shows, all adapted from stories written by Taiwanese authors. With a mind to promote a diversity of local Taiwanese voices, the television shows will center on four coupled story genres: Horror & Supernatural, Mystery & Suspense, Love & Coming Age, and Historical & Biographical. Aiming to preserve and represent Taiwan's unique culture and history through this pioneering creative project, the Q Series is set to launch a television renaissance — a tender revolution.

Reincarnation

原罪

Your present life is the result of the past life. Your next life will be a consequence of this life. Cause and effect is an infinite loop, a contrast of yin and yang. All actions and behaviors leave traces. Even if you can avoid it in this life, you will pay the price in the next. This is an eternal, unchanging truth. What power controls the cycle of cause and effect? Life comes with original sin, love, pain, failure and fulfillment. Where do these causes and effects come from? Cause and effect is a secret code you carry from birth, in a life that comes with all kinds of shackles. Like those souls stuck in the six realms of reincarnation, repeating the same fate over and over again. Sins owed in the previous life must be repaid in this life. If not, then the road shall continue, again and again for all of eternity.

Jungle King, My Papa

Jungle King, My Papa was adapted from a well-known comic, Jungle King Papa, in Taiwan. This series is full of knowledge for children in learning natural science, biology, and earth science etc. In an unfortunate shipwreck, the whole family drifted to a desert island on the sea. The family lives with animals, insects and residents on the island. The life on the island makes everything so real and amusing.

The whole story is through the talks between the jungle king and his son, Gary. They explore interesting issues in a funny and humorous way. For example, why can the abnormal behavior of animals predict the weather? Why are there so many mosquitoes before a thunderstorm or during sultry weather?

The Chapel of Kung-Tung: An Education Legend in the Coastal Range of Taiwan

公東的教堂：海岸山脈的一頁教育傳奇

Swiss priest Fr. Hilber devoted his life to Taitung, focusing on improving the lives of indigenous peoples. When he was diagnosed with cancer in his later years, he decided to return to Taitung and die in Taiwan. The Paiwan people honored him by giving him a tribal chief burial. Fr. Hilber was strict and meticulous yet genuine and passionate. Representing the priest of the Catholic Bethlehem Mission Society (SMB) from Switzerland, he truly believed that only education can improve children's future. He had wanted to teach children Swiss watch-making, but Taiwan's climate made it impractical. Later, he dug deeper to understand the culture of the Paiwan people, and when he noticed the supreme quality of the local wood, he decided to raise funds to recruit the best carpenters from Europe. He introduced the apprenticeship system to the children and established a systematic working process that is recognized internationally. They made exquisite furniture that is famous around the world. These unique "Children of Kung Tung" were sheltered by Fr. Hilber for generations. The Brutalist Church of Kung-Tung is a testament to this hero's legend, a legacy that shall never fade away.

腦波小姐

Wei Xiao-ling is a game tester for a cutting-edge gaming company. She can also see ghosts. This ability brings her much grief. For example, she accidentally kills her boss, Shi Da-yong. A ghost from the Qing dynasty claims he can help Xiao-ling solve her problem. Under his instruction, she partners up with Shi Da-yong, now in the spirit form, to retrieve his "dying thought". They only have 49 days to restore his soul back to his body before it rots away. Meanwhile, Xiao-ling also confides in psychologist Ho Ching-fung to diagnose and "cure" her from her condition. Part of Xiao-ling believes all these supernatural experiences are just illusions; there aren't any ghosts and it's just a cognitive malfunction. Xiao-ling's ghost-seeing ability means she has extremely strong brainwaves, which makes her able to test Da-yong's secret brainwave game. She is the tester Da-yong has been trying to find for a long time. She finds herself torn between falling for Ching-fung's calm and gentle touch and Da-yong's bold and fearless resolve. Signal from the Deep Sea

潛入隱沒帶

This film documents how a group of Taiwanese scientists and engineers successfully developed the ocean-bottom seismometer (OBS) after years of efforts through multinational and cross-functional collaboration. In the area of seismic research, the OBS is a delicate and expensive equipment, which needs to be placed undersea for a long-time for tracking fault movement, before recovering for data analysis. The OBS technology has been monopolized by the western world for a long time. Taiwan used to pay a lot to buy the OBS, which was not only incompatible with Taiwan's geographical features, but also poor in recovery rate. However, in 2018, for the first time, Taiwan and Japan initiated a multinational cooperation on an OBS project. They deployed 35 made-in-Taiwan OBS on the sea floor of the Ryukyu Trench, some 4,000 meters in depth. We join them in their long, arduous, unknown, yet exciting journey. This film will lead us undersea into the world of OBS, and listen to the heartbeat deep from the earth.

The Summer Temple Fair

神之鄉

A coming of age tale featuring Taiwanese religious and cultural elements, and a live-action adaptation of an original award-winning Taiwanese comic. College student Chi-hsun takes his classmate Nuan-nuan, who has a huge crush on him, back to his hometown in Taoyuan's Daxi District after seven years of absence, for a class assignment during the summer holidays. Chi-hsun's return to Daxi coincides with an annual religious festival held in the community to celebrate the birth of Guan Yu, a general of the Eastern Han Dynasty (A.D. 25-220) who was later deified by many Chinese people. There are reasons why Chi-hsun hasn't returned to his hometown for all these years and it is all tied to his relationship with his estranged father and what happened to their family when he was still a child. All the memories flash back to Chi-hsun as he gradually works out his differences with his father and opens up to the ones who care about him. With the ceremony fast approaching, Chi-hsun sets out on a journey with locals in the community and his best friend to recover forgotten childhood memories, fulfill his promise, and to celebrate the beautiful summer temple fair.

Aqua Challenge

Second only to base jumping, free diving is one of the most dangerous sports in the world. Every dive is a personal risk, a mental and physical challenge. Underwater photographers combine their diving expertise with the additional challenge of photography in an unforgiving environment. Light is limited, the water conditions can change on a dime and be life threatening, and the subject matter (model or sea life), may not always be cooperative. Aqua Challenge is the first ever reality show that puts these two groups together, pitting them against one another, for the final prize and, of course, bragging rights. Completely filmed in the tropical waters around Taiwan, every episode of this competition uses different themes and competitors will be matched with different underwater partners. With elimination determined by judges and online votes, only one photographer and one free diver will survive the test and prove that they are the best of the best.
